Mission

The Azrieli Fellows Program was established in 2007 to create a network of leading academics and professionals committed to raising Israel's profile while maintaining strong academic links between Israel and the rest of the world. The Program offers generous funding for the three critical stages of an academic career through its Graduate Studies Fellowships, International Postdoctoral Fellowships and Early Career Faculty Fellowships.

In keeping with its core values, the program nurtures interdisciplinary and cross-cultural exchange, leadership training, community engagement, professional mentorship, and a growing alumni network. Azrieli Fellows are a community of outstanding scientists and scholars who have the unique potential to perform groundbreaking research, alongside an intellectual curiosity that transcends their field of study.

By enabling multidisciplinary research and the cross-pollination of ideas, the Azrieli Fellows Program breaks down silos, encourages creative thinking, and drives out-of-the-box solutions to some of the world's most pressing issues.

The following guidelines outline details of the Azrieli Graduate Studies Fellowships.

Who Can Become an Azrieli Fellow?

Graduate students at Israeli universities, in the fields and at the degree levels outlined in these guidelines, are eligible to apply to the Azrieli Fellows Program. Applicants must be nominated by one of the following accredited academic institutions:

1. Bar-Ilan University
2. Ben-Gurion University
3. Hebrew University of Jerusalem
4. Reichman University
5. Technion-Israel Institute of Technology
6. Tel Aviv University
7. University of Haifa
8. Weizmann Institute of Science

Candidates for the Azrieli Fellowships are assessed based on their past academic performance, as well as their potential to make cutting-edge contributions to their respective research fields. Aspects of personal merit and leadership abilities are also considered, without regard to race, religion, gender, ethnicity or age.

Overview of the Fellowship

Number of Fellowships Offered

The Azrieli Fellows Program offers up to 25 fellowships every year in the academic fields and disciplines, as outlined in the chart below.

Duration of the Fellowship

1. The Azrieli Fellowships commence in October 2024. The duration of the fellowships is outlined in the table below.
2. The Azrieli Fellows Program reserves the right to grant less than the indicated number of fellowships in a given year.
3. Fellowships are offered for up to the number of years listed below; the fellowship duration may change in accordance with university bylaws and procedures.
4. The Foundation may consider requests for an extension of an Azrieli Fellowship beyond the granted period. For information, Fellows may turn to the Fellows Program management.

Additional Income Policy

1. The Azrieli Fellows Program provides a generous stipend intended to enable students to focus solely on their research at the academic institution.
2. The Azrieli Foundation has no objection to the student's receipt of supplementary funding, in accordance with the academic institution's policies.
3. The Azrieli Foundation has no objection to the student's receipt of additional research grants for conference travel & research expenses.
4. The Program will allow employment directly connected to the student's training (e.g. teaching, tutoring, or other research-related roles) for up to four hours per week, subject to the Foundation's approval.

Eligibility Conditions per Discipline

The following pages outline eligibility conditions for the fellowships offered by the Azrieli Fellows Program. Allowances are made for parental or medical leave, and considered for other career interruptions.

Potential applicants, who are not able to submit an application for the 2024-2025 (תשפ"ה) selection process due to reasons connected to the "Iron Swords" war will be considered for the 2025-2026 (תשפ"ו) selection process. Applicants may only apply once for the Azrieli Graduate Studies Fellowship.

Natural Sciences

1. The Azrieli Fellows Program will accept nominations of outstanding PhD students who perform cutting-edge scientific research, basic or applied, in the STEM fields.
2. Students nominated for a Clore Scholarship or Adams Fellowship may not be nominated for an Azrieli Fellowship in the same year.
3. Candidates will be eligible for nomination by their academic institution if they have:
 - a) Submitted a Research Proposal to the academic institution's authorities by March 31, 2024. Research Proposals do not require approval at the time of application; however, they must be approved no later than October 1, 2024.
 - b) Started their PhD program track after October 1, 2022. This condition is relevant for students in a Regular PhD track, as well as in PhD tracks defined as "Combined" or "Direct", in which the master's or PhD period of study is shortened.

Direct track PhD students, i.e. PhD candidates who did not engage in Master's studies, will be eligible to apply if they started their PhD after October 1, 2021.

PhD Track	Definition	Official Starting Date of PhD Studies
Regular	Regular: BSc → MSc → PhD	After October 1, 2022
Combined (also referred to as " Direct " in some universities)	Combined: BSc → MSc → PhD (shortened MSc or PhD period)	After October 1, 2022
Direct	BSc → PhD (no Msc)	After October 1, 2021

Architecture (Master's)	4	8	4

How to Apply

1. The Azrieli Fellows Program management sends out Calls for Applications, Program Guidelines and Application Forms to the Academic Secretariat or Graduate School of all participating institutions. This information is then distributed to the relevant faculties and departments.
2. Candidates must be nominated by the Rector of the academic institution or by an academic official of a similar position. Nominations and coordination of applications will be processed through the Academic Secretariat or the Graduate School of the institution at which candidates are enrolled.
3. Students interested in applying should approach their departments/faculties and may also approach the Academic Secretariat or Graduate School administration at their academic institution. Guidelines may be downloaded from the Azrieli Foundation website at www.azrielifoundation.org/fellows .
4. Candidates will undergo an internal nomination process. The academic institution will instruct nominees regarding the submission process of their applications to the Azrieli Fellows Program. Candidates are advised to check with their academic institutions regarding internal deadlines for submitting application materials.
5. The Azrieli Foundation will accept applications until April 2, 2024.
6. The selection process will take place between April – July 2024. Candidates may be called upon to participate in an interview in June 2024.

Obligations of the Azrieli Fellow

In order to maintain good standing, Azrieli Fellows will be required to sign a form committing themselves to the fulfillment of the following obligations:

1. Academic Excellence

Fellows are obligated to maintain a level of academic excellence throughout the Program – as defined by the university in which they are enrolled.

2. Progress Reports

Regular progress reports will be submitted by the Fellow to the Program Management and authorized by the Fellow's academic supervisor.

3. Community Engagement

Azrieli Fellows are expected to volunteer 40 hours over the course of the academic year in an a-political, non-partisan and non-proselytizing activity or program to be approved in advance and in writing by the Azrieli Fellows Program management. The Foundation will cover travel expenses related to the volunteer activity.

4. Participation in Program-sponsored Events

To foster the exchange of ideas between Azrieli Fellows and maintain a sense of group identification, the Program will sponsor several events during the academic year at which Fellows may socialize and share their research and study activities. Some of these events might include a 'Fellows Forum' series (see section 5 below), the annual opening and closing celebrations, informal dinners, seminars and workshops.

5. The Azrieli Fellows Forums

The Azrieli Fellows Forums are held several times a year, providing the opportunity for Fellows to socialize and share their research and study activities in a multidisciplinary environment. At these meetings, Fellows present lectures in English on elements of their research.

6. Publications

Any written work published by the Fellows while in the Program (e.g., articles published in journals, etc.) must acknowledge the support of the Azrieli Foundation in a written dedication. Fellows will be asked to notify Azrieli Fellows Program administrators regarding all publications produced during their Fellowship.

7. Alumni Activities

Fellows will be asked to act as ambassadors for the Azrieli Fellows Program – to talk about their experiences, publicize the Fellowship to their colleagues and potential candidates, and participate in information sessions for new candidates. Alumni will be invited to attend ongoing Program activities and events and may be called on to assist in selection processes for incoming Fellows.

Obligations of the Academic Institution

Relating to the Nomination of Candidates

1. To ensure that nominees adhere to the eligibility conditions stipulated in these guidelines.
2. To submit to the Azrieli Fellows Program no more than the number of nominees requested in the guidelines.
3. To submit to the Azrieli Fellows Program no more than one nominee per supervisor.

Relating to Azrieli Fellows studying at the Academic Institution

4. To ensure that Azrieli Fellows are exempt from tuition and other institutional payments.
5. To ensure that any employment taken on by an Azrieli Fellow within the university directly connects to her/his academic training and does not exceed four teaching hours per week. The university will ensure that any requests for additional hours be brought to the Fellows Program management for consideration.
6. To ensure that the academic supervisor reports on the Azrieli Fellow's progress regularly via the Academic Progress Report provided by Fellows Program management.
7. To enable Azrieli Fellows to participate in program-sponsored events during the academic year.
8. The academic institution shall advise its Azrieli fellows to hold appropriate health insurance policies throughout their fellowship.
9. To report on any halting of research that lasts more than six months.
10. The Fellowship is a gift to the students. The university will be the pipeline through which payment is transferred from the Azrieli Foundation to the students. No overhead will be paid to the university. The university will not deduct any amount from the Fellowship payment without the Azrieli Fellows Program management agreement.
